Would not even load. My HTC Vive system is usually rock-solid, all my other 80+ titles work fine. Tried reboots and resets of headset, nothing worked. Skip this one.. This is still a really early version of an ambitious concept. It's a VR building program focused on architecture, with wood, stone, and tile textures. I could see using it for art, or simple modeling. (Request some more unusual materials!) The idea is to cooperate with other users online, plan out a building, or similar things. I assume that there will be an export, so that you could use it as a guide for standard CAD programs. I guess the online multi-user feature is not active yet? In the fine print, it says a "subscription" will be required for that - that should be clearly mentioned. <http://archvirtual.com/immerse-creator/> We will see where it goes, you may want to wait for more features to be added. For more game-like VR world building, try Anyland.. Would not even load. My HTC Vive system is usually rock-solid, all my other 80+ titles work fine.
